Each summer, the Tour de France races across the country, giving a select group of very talented cyclists a chance to see the country from a blurry perspective. But on this cycling tour of the Loire Valley, knowing the difference between a front derailleur and a rear dropout isn't necessary. Hop on a bike and experience ornate châteaux, rustic markets, vineyards, and rural Gallic charm. Think of this as the perfect combination of slow food, fine wines, and remote country tracks – ideal for seeing the inspiring scenery.

Day 1 Blois Arrive at any time.

Day 2 Blois/Chenonceaux (Breakfast) Enjoy a full day of cycling from Blois to Chenonceau with the opportunity to visit the Chateau de Blois.

Day 3 Chenonceaux/Tours (Breakfast | Lunch) Continue cycling with stops along the way at Château de Chenonceau and the local markets to pick up some traditional ingredients for a French-style picnic lunch.

Day 4 Tours/Chinon (Breakfast) Set off for another full-day cycling from Tours to Chinon. Stop to visit the Chateau Usse en route. Upon arrival visit a local vineyard for a wine tasting.

Day 5 Chinon/Saumur (Breakfast) Wake up in medieval Chinon, visit troglodyte caves and cycle to Saumur.

Day 6 Saumur/Gennes (Breakfast) In the afternoon cycle through some of the Loire's tiny villages on the way to Gennes. Stop for a visit to the Pierre et Lumière museum.

Day 7 Gennes/Angers (Breakfast) On the final day of cycling, travel from Gennes to Angers. In the evening opt for a final tradition French dinner with the group.

Day 8 Angers (Breakfast) Depart at any time.
